Quack!

The social habits of ducks are something the hunter hasn't time to think about when he's out yonder in a blind with a gun waiting for the feathered sky fleet to show up on a frosty morning. In that respect I am luckier than the true duck-hunter.

Just ahead of the opening of the season each year I try to get out with the color camera and round up a few action pictures. Picture-taking produces less tension than handling a gun, and it's definitely more comfortable — since you can't take pictures in the cold gray dawn you wait for a good sun, and life in a duck-blind on a November morning is a lot less rugged when the sun is up.

The word-picture I am working around to here is an account of an expedition into Grassy Lake Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning with B. R. Hammon. I got a few pictures late Wednesday, but we didn't do much business Thursday morning.

Rick in your mind, of course, is the thought that the great mass of ducks is still up yonder in Canada — and they're not going to budge southward while the mild weather holds. Actually, when the first frost hit Arkansas the early part of this week it was colder in the northern end of our state than in southern Canada.

But any trip into Grassy Lake is fascinating regardless of the luck with either shooting or pictures. For one thing, it's a continuous feast to hear Duck-Caller Hammon exclaiming platitudes with the occasional birds overhead. He quacks, and they quack back.

But socially the ducks are more co-operative when not traveling alone. At least that's how it was with us this trip. A flight of three or four would usually circle around us several times — but a lone duck would merely acknowledge the call and keep going.

Nature is a wonderful thing, and you see lots of it in Grassy Lake. For instance, all ducks presumably are one species and could interbreed if they chose. But they don't. The different varieties have remained intact down through the ages. The wood duck travels with his own kind, and the mallard with his. It is true that on Thursday we saw three wood ducks going south with a mallard — but it's a safe bet to quit 'em on the horizon and picked up some fellow mallards.

For a dry season Grassy Lake has come out remarkably well. Our windmill-bait navigating without trouble. It wasn't always that way. More than 20 years ago I recall most of the boat-trails would go dry in a dry year. But the Grassy Lake Hunting Club some time ago built a mile-long 2 1/2 feet high, and now the preserve has water in all its trails — not much, but enough to float a duck-boat.

But the hunters all over Arkansas are going to need some winter weather up Canada-way to run the ducks down South. If the season opening next week is to be a successful one.

High Brass of GOP Forced Inquiry Drop

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Heavy pressure was applied by the Republican National Committee and the White House before Republican members of the House Un-American Activities Committee dropped their plan to require former President Truman to testify.

This was learned today from reliable sources who may not be named.

The Republicans got their first intimation that they might be on shaky political ground when President Eisenhower, at his Wednesday news conference, said he personally would not have subpoenaed Truman or Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

Tom Secretary James C. Hagerty said that, aside from any influence these personal views of Eisenhower may have had, the White House exerted no persuasion on the Republican committee members to abandon the project.

It was learned, however, that White House staff members made their views known to GOP members of the House committee, either directly or through intermediaries.

The GOP National Committee also moved into the picture Wednesday.

Two Accidents Investigated

An auto driven by Bonnie Christ and another driven by George Bryant collided late Thursday downtown on Elm Street with the Bryant car sustaining heavy damage. In another wreck yesterday on South Walnut a school bus driven by Sam Weaver and an auto driven by C. T. Lawson collided with little damage resulting. The bus carried 20 school children at the time of the crash.

Hempstead Is Added to List for Drouth Hay

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — Drought aid for 16 more Arkansas counties was announced without checking the official list, that the five counties still out were Miller, Langston, Little River, Union, and Ouachita. Gov. Frank Cherry said he was happy to hear that 16 more counties had been declared drought disaster areas.

The total number of Arkansas counties now included in the federal drought relief program is 70. Only five counties remain outside the drought disaster area.

The counties added to the list yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Benson are: Arkansas, Ashley, Bradley, Calhoun, Chicot, Columbia, Desha, Drew, Hempstead, Howard, Jefferson, Lincoln, Monroe, Nevada, Phillips and Sevier.

State Drought Committee Chairman W. L. Jameson, of Magnolia, said he assumed, without checking the official list, that the five counties still out were Miller, Langston, Little River, Union, and Ouachita. Gov. Frank Cherry said he was happy to hear that 16 more counties had been declared drought disaster areas.

He said, "We've been trying for weeks to get the remaining counties on the list."

Jameson said he could not explain the government's "yardstick" for approving and disapproving counties within the drought area.

"Naturally bringing our total up to 70 is a big help," he said, "but, that does not get the fact that all of Arkansas should be considered a part of the emergency drought area."

The drought chairman, in Little Rock for a monthly meeting of the Production and Marketing Administration, said the drought committee two weeks ago recommended that the entire state be put on the emergency list.

Nola A. McGee, acting state administrator for the Production and Marketing Administration, said drought aid would be a great help in the newly named counties.

He said feed prices in those counties will bring costs down to "just slightly above half the retail market prices."

Miles McPeck, agriculture statistician, said the counties "certainly needed the assistance."

"The drought hasn't broken here yet. Farmers have had a tough time getting fall grains in and started. We'll need several more inches of rain before we can consider ourselves out of danger," he said.

Eligible farmers and dairymen in the counties designated may purchase feed from the Commodity Credit Corp at these reduced prices: Corn, $1 a bushel; oats 50 cents a bushel; feed wheat $1.10 a bushel; and cottonseed meal 35 a ton.

Italian police identified one of the injured Americans as Sgt. Harold Norman, Cleveland, O. The Navy refused to confirm the identification until the injured man's family has been notified.

Your Daydreams Grow Up as You Do and Sometimes They Turn Into Big Nightmares

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) Your daydreams grow up as you do.

This fact is giving me quite a headache. My daydreams used to be fun. Now they're hard mental work. To tell you the truth, my daydreams are beginning to give me nightmares.

Here, for example, is my oldest and most favorite daydream: Dawn is breaking on the plains as I ride up to a small campfire, dismount stiffly from my tired pony, and put down my smoking rifle.

A buckskin-clad figure dozing by the fire throws off a blanket and

Girl Kidnaped Four Hours by Gunman

NEW YORK, (AP) — Police said a 13-year-old girl was found today about four hours after she was kidnaped from her East Side Manhattan home by a scar-faced man.

The girl was located in the Elmhurst district of Queens. Police gave no other details.

The kidnaper terrorized the girl's family for almost an hour before taking her away about 5 a.m.

The girl, Dorothea Del Longo was clad in pajamas and topcoat when whisked away in a car by the man.

The bizarre story was told to police by the girl's step-father, James Botticelli, 40, superintendent of a five-story rooming house at 137 East 95th street.

About 4 a.m. this morning, Botticelli said, a loud knock on the door awakened the family—Botticelli, his wife, Bertha, Dorothea, and a son, Thomas, 10.

Rhee Feels Reds to Come to Terms

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — South Korean President Syngman Rhee said today the Communists will come to terms "if we stand firm" in the peace negotiations and accuse them of violating the truce by penetrating into South Korea.

Rhee said in a special interview with three American newsmen: "I think if the Chinese Communists would withdraw from North Korea and the Allied forces would withdraw from South Korea" the Communists would accept terms because it would enable them to "save face."

The aging South Korean president talked for one hour and 10 minutes with correspondents who accompanied Vice President Richard Nixon on his Far Eastern "good will" tour.

Rhee said his ultimatum still stands that South Korea will take independent action if progress has not been made in peace negotiations at the end of the 90-day period.

"Yes, nothing has changed," Rhee said when asked about his deadline on efforts to peacefully unify Korea which will fall in late January.

The 78-year-old president said he is still willing to cooperate with President Eisenhower in efforts to get peace through negotiation.

"We have always cooperated to the fullest," he said.

But Rhee asked, "How long can you talk? There must be some sort of a deadline."

When asked what course South Korea will follow if there is no satisfactory progress when the deadline is reached, Rhee said "We haven't decided that." He said it would depend upon "many things."

Marries Four Times in Eleven Months

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — Truck driver Kenneth Griffin, 35, charged with four counts of bigamy, is accused of marrying four women within 11 months while still not divorced from a wife in Chicago.

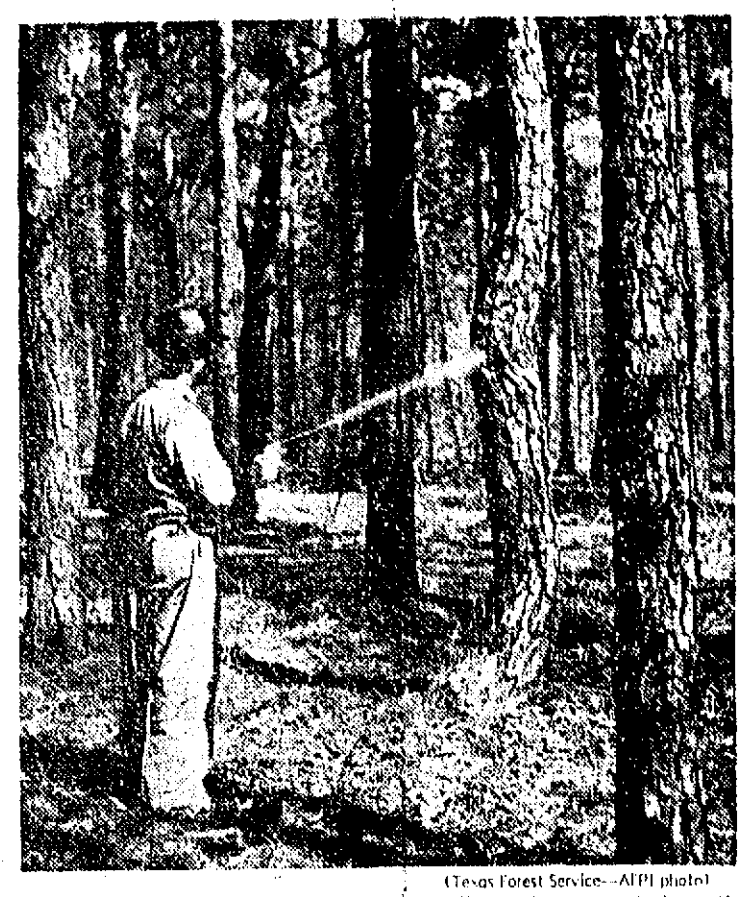

Deputy District Attorney Joe Leonir said Thursday that Griffin, while still legally married to Josephine Griffin:

July 25, 1952, wed Betty Steigman; Dec. 5, 1952, married Catherine Contanzaro; last Jan. 29, married Vivian Martinelli; and last June 18 wed Lucille Norvell.

Leonir said Griffin told him he went to cafes where he met women who seemed to be interested in having him marry them, so he did.

Local Merchants Planning Big Gala Event to Usher in Start of Coming Yuletide Season

A gala night is in store for folks in the Hope area come Thursday, December 3. The merchants of Hope will inaugurate the Christmas season on this evening with a community wide Open House.

All of the stores and businesses will be dressed out in their best bib and tucker, along with the store personnel. In many stores favors will be distributed to the public or even maybe some appropriate Christmas candy.

The general public is invited to be in Hope for this event. The Christmas lights will be turned on at 6:30 p. m.

The merchants are emphasizing that primary object for this event is merely to show off their places of business and their Christmas merchandise. The public is not expected nor requested to make purchases on this occasion, but, of course, will be permitted to do so.

The main attraction for the evening enjoyment will be a concert by the Hope High School band and the High School Glee Club. The Glee Club and the band will give Christmas music and songs in accompaniment and separately. This will mark the first appearance of the Glee Club and will be the first band concert this year. The concert program will begin promptly at 8:30 p. m. on the north steps of the Hope postoffice.

Chairman Ralph Montgomery, along with his committee of Mrs. Ched Hall, A. C. Ball, and Bill Mudgett, says that indications are for a large crowd and that the business people are looking forward to this date to get better acquainted with their customers and friends.

All of the store windows will be newly decorated for Christmas this occasion and the stores will be open until 8:00 p. m. for this Christmas Open House event.

Fire Damages Freight Car of Cotton

About 100 bales of cotton in a Missouri Pacific box car were damaged by fire here today. The cotton had been shipped from Texas to the local Union Compress.

Smoke was discovered coming from the car and it was quickly switched to a siding. Hope firemen said there was no way of telling how long the bales had been smoldering but theorized the fire was probably started when the car was being loaded.

Negotiators to Meet Saturday on Peace Plan

By JOHN RANDOLPH

PANMUNJIM, (AP) — Top U.S. and Red negotiators return tomorrow to discuss plans for a Korean peace conference, a week's recess while staff advisers worked in secret on an agenda.

The advisers ended a series of six secret meetings today but refused to give any information on the results. However, they apparently reached some sort of agreement since the top delegates were called back.

Meanwhile, Gen. John E. Hill, U. N. Far East commander, said in Korea he would "absolutely press" for the release of all remaining anti-Red Korean and Chinese war prisoners on Jan. 22. If the already late conference hasn't begun by then.

By this, Hill meant the U. N. would object to any Red claim that any prisoners be held longer for any reason.

The truce agreement specifies that all unrepatriated POWs be released as civilians one month after the end of efforts to win them home if the political conference has not settled their fate.

The Red interview program, now at a standstill, is due to end Dec. 23 by U. N. interpretation. The peace conference, originally scheduled to start by Oct. 20, has been snarled by the deadlock over an agenda for planning the talks.

The explanations hung in stalemate Thursday for the eighth straight day and no interviews were scheduled for Friday.

The Communists gave no sign of accepting an Indian plan for speeding up the interviews, insisting again on talking with 350 Chinese POWs not interviewed when one 402-man compound was called up Nov. 5.

The Reds have refused since then to call any other group and the 350 POWs have refused to come. The repatriation commission heard a formal protest by the Red satellite Polish and Czech legations against "illegal refusal."

The five-nation repatriation commission also approved a Czech resolution objecting to the discovery of a small radio in a bag of rationals that a UNC representative delivered to a Korean POW compound.

The commission warned the UNC to "take immediate measures" to prevent delivery of any objects unless they are approved by the commission.

The high-level negotiations between U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean and North Korean and Chinese delegates were recessed a week ago after days of futile discussion on what phase of a Korean peace conference to talk about first.

Four Perish in Dwelling Blaze

DUNKIRK, N. Y., (AP) — Three children and their grandfather died in a fire that destroyed a frame dwelling here Thursday.

The victims were Rosemary Lawton, 7; her sister, Judith, 5; her brother, Thomas, 18 months; and the maternal grandfather, Thomas Swartz, 47.

Fire Chief Edwin Banister said the fire was believed to have been started by a defective gas stove.

Censors May Strip Boston of Burlesque

By JAMES CALOGERO

BOSTON, (AP) — Boston, a stronghold for burlesque for more than a half century, may never again be thrilled by the tense of the stripper.

The Board of Censors yesterday ordered the city's two burlesque theatres—the 108-year-old Old Howard and the larger Casino—closed for the rest of the year because their shows were too dirty.

Mayor John B. Hynes, as spokesman for the board, said he didn't know whether the licenses would be renewed. And he hinted very broadly that if burlesque is allowed to return, the stripper will have to do a takedown.

Strip-teasers have been outlawed from Boston night clubs for more than two years.

Barber Lifts 500-Lb. Gate, Frees Youth

NEWARK, N. J., (UP) — A 24-year-old barber said today he must have had superhuman help to free a five-year-old youngster pinned under a fall-on 500-pound gate.

"God must have given me the strength to lift the gate," said the barber, Frank Gerald.

Gerald performed his unusual feat when the wrought-iron gate toppled on John Pollittina, six, and Vincent Rossi, five, as they were playing noughts yesterday.

Gerald rushed across the street from his barber shop when he heard the youngsters' cries and found John staggering under the gate. Vincent was pinned under the gate.

The barber, who served in the Pacific with a medallion until during World War II, strained at the heavy gate until he lifted it as high as his hip and pulled the youngster from under.

Both boys were taken to St. Michael's hospital by ambulance where John and Vincent were in fair condition with head injuries and a fractured leg.

The owner of the property on which the accident occurred, Dominick Tunatello, 73, was arrested later by police.

Auto Owners to Go on Tax Books

LITTLE ROCK, (AP) — About one-third to one-half of Arkansas' automobile owners, if they want to buy 1954 licenses, will have to put their names on the tax books for the first time, it was estimated here yesterday.

Revenue Commissioner Vance Scurlock said the owners will get their names on the personal property tax books because of two laws passed by the 1953 Legislature.

The laws require a car owner, before he can buy new tags, to show a paid personal property tax receipt for taxes due in 1953, and also show a statement from the tax assessor that the car is listed for taxation in 1954.

Scurlock said that if an applicant for a license owns no personal property tax for 1953 he will be required to present either a tax collector's or a tax assessor's statement to that effect.

The body of a typical adult man contains a little over five quarts of blood.

Clark Would Answer Question by Mail Only

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark refused today to comply with a subpoena to testify before the House Un-American Activities Committee on the Harry Dexter White case.

Clark offered, however, to give "serious consideration" to any written questions the committee may wish to send him.

In a letter to the committee, Clark based his rejection of the subpoena on the premise that the judicial branch of the government is independent of the legislature.

This is the same constitutional basis on which former President Truman declined yesterday to honor a committee subpoena. Truman's stand was that the executive branch of the government was not subject to authority of the congressional branch.

NEW YORK, (UP) — Former President Truman indicated today he will speak out on the Harry Dexter White case at a time and place of his own choosing.

Mr. Truman gave a clue to his plans during a two-mile stroll early today. He was asked if he refused to answer a subpoena issued by the House Un-American Activities Committee meant he would remain silent on the White case.

"It does not necessarily mean I will not speak out at some time," Mr. Truman said. "I haven't had a chance to look up the White case since my records are in Kansas City, Mo."

The former chief executive told reporters and photographers who accompanied him on the stroll that he and his wife would return to Missouri tomorrow, leaving New York by train at 12:20 p.m., EST. He said he would spend next week working on the records of his administration for his memoirs.

Mr. Truman presumably will check documents relating to White at that time.

Mr. Truman also was asked whether he would accept an "invitation" to testify before the Senate Internal Security subcommittee as suggested yesterday by one of its members, Sen. Robert C. Hendrickson (R-N.J.).

"I really don't know," he said. "I'll have to cross that bridge when I get to it."

In discussing various political matters with a group of walking companions including entertainer George Jessel and his old haherdashery store partner, Edward Jacobson, Mr. Truman commented on Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's attempt to out-act Lt. Gov. Arthur H. Wicks.

"A fellow like that should know when to quit without being thrown out," Mr. Truman said.

As the former president passed street level television studios (NBC) at Rockefeller Plaza, entertainers on the Dave Garroway television show brought out a chimpanzee dressed as a little boy to greet him, assuring Mr. Truman it was a "Democratic monkey."

Private View of Chevrolet Trucks Held

Kinard Young of the Young Chevrolet Company has just returned from Memphis, Tennessee where he attended a private preview of the new 1954 Chevrolet trucks. The exhibit and accompanying business session were sponsored by the company for all retail dealers and salesmen in this area and emphasized the importance Chevrolet is attaching to its nationwide announced new truck line.

"Not only will Chevrolet have more to offer the truck user in 1954 but it will expand the forces behind its selling, including an expanded advertising program."

Mr. Young said he plans to arrange a special showing of the new line in his dealership when the trucks become available for display later this month. It is one of the few times in history that Chevrolet has exhibited new trucks apart from new passenger car models.

Canada in Big Welcome to Eisenhowers

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

ABOARD EISENHOWER TRAIN — A Panama-clad resident Eisenhower, headed for Ottawa on a good will visit, was welcomed at the border today by Canadian officials and a red-jacketed detail of Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

The welcoming delegation of Canadians joined the Eisenhower special train at Rouses Point, N. Y. just across the boundary line from Canada, at 7:30 a. m.

The President was still in his private car berth when the train came to a halt so four cars from Ottawa could be hooked on for the rest of the trip.

A few minutes later, however, the sleepy-eyed chief executive came to the rear platform of the car and waved to the crowd of about 100 townsfolk who had turned out.

Wearing a burgundy robe over light blue pajamas, the President called out:
"Hi, back there, I'm sorry I'm not dressed."

Then he declared with a shiver "It's cold out here," and ducked back inside.

Eisenhower was joined at Rouses Point by an Ottawa delegation headed by L. B. Persson, Canadian foreign secretary, and R. Douglas Stuart, the American ambassador to Canada.

Royal Canadian Mounted Police came aboard to work with the U. S. Secret Service in protection of the President during his two-day state visit in Canada.

Investigation of Labor Trouble Starts

LITTLE ROCK, Mo. — An investigation began here yesterday of American Federation of Labor troubles in Arkansas that stemmed from the state AFL convention earlier this year at Hot Springs.

John I. Rollings of St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Federation of Labor, was sent to make the investigation by AFL President George Meany.

The trouble apparently began at the state meeting when two union locals attempted to get back into the state federation, Charles W. Mowery of Hot Springs said at the time that it was an attempt to unseat him, Mowery was re-elected.

The unions were Local 708, United Association of Plumbers and Steamfitters at El Dorado, and the Operating Engineers union.

Rollings declined to discuss the investigation yesterday, saying, "We don't want to argue this matter in the newspapers."

He called the controversy a "family affair."

Rollings told newsmen that dif-

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — The Arkansas Wildlife Federation had set up a committee to study any water rights legislation that may come before the 1955 general assembly.

Tom Tinnon, federation president, yesterday announced the names of six of the seven committee members. They were Tinnon, of Mountain Home; Joe Ballinger, Corning; Homer Anderson, Camden; J. B. Parks, Little Rock; Bob Howard, Van Buren, and Bill Gilliam, Malvern.

Tinnon said the seventh member of the committee, who probably will be a Stuttgart man, will be named later.

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Two cotton compress firms have sued the state to recover $13,500 in taxes which they claim were illegally assessed.

Suit was filed in Pulaski Circuit court yesterday by the Federal Compress, Little Rock, and foreclosures such as those found in the Arkansas AFL ranks are not unusual in any state. There are many unions everywhere that won't have anything to do with their state federations, he said.

The Missouri AFL leader said he expected the investigation to take a week to 10 days.

Irritating Interference

Dear Miss Dix: My father recently returned because of ill health, and my mother is ill, too. They have a very well in their own place, but my father has a condition that makes it impossible for him to leave his home. My husband is perfectly willing to take them and my children are thrilled over the prospect of having their beloved grandparents here. The trouble however comes from my husband's people, and I feel their interference in a matter that is so serious to my father is unbearable.

NO COMMENT NEEDED

Answer: The opinion of your in-laws certainly should have no bearing whatsoever on your decision. The problem concerns you, your husband, and your parents; no outsiders should venture more than a passing comment. The matter boils down to a simple case of petty jealousy. An added aggravation may be present if your husband's brothers and sisters fail to show their parents the devotion that you give your mother and father were deprived of needed care for such superficial reasons.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a high school freshman. My English teacher and I don't get along, and although I've been to the office to see if I could have my class changed, nothing can be done. Even though I work harder than the other students, she gives me lower marks.

Answer: It rarely is accorded every student to like all of his teachers, usually there's one instructor, if not more, who just doesn't click. Generally it's because the pupil

University as a kind of afterthought.

What can you dream up against a guy like that? Last night I had this nightmare:

"Well, Bill," I said, "I bought Grant's Tomb, the Statue of Liberty, the Eiffel Tower, and the Washington Monument this morning. Think I'll air-condition 'em all — except the Eiffel Tower, of course. What'd you buy today — another Broadway shooting gallery?"

And Bill just quietly tossed over a newspaper that had this headline: "Zackendorf purchases U.S. Mint, announces plans to modernize currency."

I woke up sweating, guess I'd better go back to dreaming about old Buffalo Bill. He can't fight back.

To Audit Accounts of Fire Victim

Bobcats Go to Arkadelphia; B Teams Tie

HOPE goes to Arkadelphia tonight for a contest with the Badgers which is a battle between two teams probably to see which one stays on the bottom in conference standings.

Neither team has set the woods on fire this season and neither have a win in conference play. The buckles Badgers are likely to be gunning for a victory but from all viewpoints the Bobcats are supposed to win this one.

Both teams are in fair condition and the contest could be an interesting one.

Last night at Hammons Stadium the Camden B team came from behind to gain a 13-all tie in the final period.

Frankie McDowell put Hope in front in the first half with a 10-yard end kick and a TD. Charles Doxas passed 40 yards to Lydon Pate for the second score giving the locals a 13-0 halftime lead. Camden scored twice to tie the score in the final period.

Gavilan Is Solid Choice Over Bratton

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO, 28—Kid Gavilan, 147-pounder and making the 147-pound weight limit without a strain is a solid 4-5 choice to retain his welterweight championship tonight against a threatening and determined Johnny Bratton.

The 15-pound fight promptly will be televised (NBC) and broadcast (ABC) nationally starting at 10 p. m., EST. The Chicago area is blacked out on T. V. boosting the Chicago Stadium crowd to an expected 17,000 with a net gate of about $130,000.

Bratton, who at 26 has been in the ring professionally for nine years, will receive 20 per cent of the net and $10,000 from a T. V. cut—$11 approximately $36,000 that should get him out of hock after a spending spree as a teenage phenom.

Gavilan, making his seventh defense of his crown since taking a 15-round decision from Bratton, then the NBC titleholder, in New York two years ago, will get 40 per cent of the net gate and TV.

"It will be the third meeting of the two. Gavilan became the third fighter to fracture Bratton's jaw in their first scrap and Bratton also broke his hand in that match. Later in 1951 they met in an overwrought nontitle bout at Chicago Stadium that was ruled a draw. Gavilan claimed he was a victim of a home town decision and says:

PINE BLUFF, 28—The Langston High School Bulldogs of Hot Springs practically assured themselves the Big Eight (Negro) crown here last night by whipping Merrill High School 26-7.

Langston now has six victories to no defeats in the Big Eight conference of the Arkansas State Athletic Association.

Last night's game, sparked by the running of George Hunt who scored two touchdowns, assured the Bulldogs of at least a tie in conference play. They have one more game to play, against Fort Smith's Lincoln High School, considered a weak sister in the circuit.

The Bulldogs scored in each period against a tough but overpowered Merrill eleven. Hunt failed in the first and third periods.

Uvond Reynolds tossed a touchdown pass in the second period to end James Kimble for the second Langston TD.

Joe Fort converted after the first and third goals for Langston. Merrill's only score came in the second quarter when the Tigers received a touchdown.

"I whip him for sure this time. There be no doubts."

Interest in the Cuban Hawk's defense tonight is sharpened by his uninspired job in September at Syracuse against Carmen Basilio. Basilio scored a knockdown and Gavilan was hard pressed to get a decision.

Gavilan had shed eight pounds in two weeks to make the 147-pound weight for Basilio. This time he has trained faithfully and should have no excuses if he loses.

In 12 fights, only the Williams and Basilio have felled the Kid. Bratton has been down only once, knocked by a guy named Robert Earl in 1945. He got up and child Earl in the same round, the third.

If Bratton ever needs a victory it is now. He knows he has everything to gain, and a loss would slide him back into the category of just another welterweight on the peanut circuit.

Porkers Face Fine Defense in Mustangs

DALLAS, 28—A Southern Methodist University football team which has shown the Southwest Conference's finest defense while combating formation teams will get its first test against the single wing when the Arkansas Razorbacks visit the Cotton Bowl tomorrow.

The Mustangs, needing a victory to stay in the championship race, also may get a taste of spread football.

Arkansas blundered some spread stuff with its single wing against Rice last week but had the ball so ineffectively while the Owls were winning 47-0 that they didn't have a chance to give it a good workout.

Coach Bowden Wyatt has been stressing spread plays in practice this week.

Regardless of what formation they use, however, the Razorbacks' chances of penetrating the rugged Mustang defense undoubtedly will depend on the passing of Lamar McHan.

If McHan, the conference's total offense leader, is finding and hitting receivers, the big SMU line may not be able to stack its strength against the Arkansas rushing game.

SMU has yielded an average of only 104 yards rushing and 66.7 passing in a game.

Arkansas will be without the services of its top blocking back and linebacker, Little Bobby Proctor, for the second straight week. He will be left at home with a severe thigh injury.

The Mustangs' defense, on the other hand, expects to be in their best physical condition in weeks. Jerry Norton, SMU's finest running back and punter, has recovered from an injury and will return to action.

In addition to Norton, SMU has a breakout threat in Halfback Frank Kiddom, the boy whose long run in the closing minutes beat Rice earlier in the season.

While he has not thrown half as many times or gained half as much yardage, the Mustangs' quarterback, Duane Nutt, has a better completion average than the remarkable McHan. Nutt has hit 54.6 per cent of his tosses; McHan's percentage is 53.1.

Arkansas will be trying to snap a losing streak on Texas soil. The Razorbacks have dropped 14 in a row in Texas, not having won there since 1948.

In previous meetings, SMU has won 17 times to Arkansas' nine. The two schools have tied twice. At Fayetteville last year, the Razorbacks ran up a quick 17-0 lead, but the Mustangs came back to win 27-17.

DALLAS, 28—A Southern Methodist University football team which has shown the Southwest Conference's finest defense while combating formation teams will get its first test against the single wing when the Arkansas Razorbacks visit the Cotton Bowl tomorrow.

The Mustangs, needing a victory to stay in the championship race, also may get a taste of spread football.

Arkansas blundered some spread stuff with its single wing against Rice last week but had the ball so ineffectively while the Owls were winning 47-0 that they didn't have a chance to give it a good workout.

Coach Bowden Wyatt has been stressing spread plays in practice this week.

Regardless of what formation they use, however, the Razorbacks' chances of penetrating the rugged Mustang defense undoubtedly will depend on the passing of Lamar McHan.

If McHan, the conference's total offense leader, is finding and hitting receivers, the big SMU line may not be able to stack its strength against the Arkansas rushing game.

SMU has yielded an average of only 104 yards rushing and 66.7 passing in a game.

Arkansas will be without the services of its top blocking back and linebacker, Little Bobby Proctor, for the second straight week. He will be left at home with a severe thigh injury.

The Mustangs' defense, on the other hand, expects to be in their best physical condition in weeks. Jerry Norton, SMU's finest running back and punter, has recovered from an injury and will return to action.

In addition to Norton, SMU has a breakout threat in Halfback Frank Kiddom, the boy whose long run in the closing minutes beat Rice earlier in the season.

While he has not thrown half as many times or gained half as much yardage, the Mustangs' quarterback, Duane Nutt, has a better completion average than the remarkable McHan. Nutt has hit 54.6 per cent of his tosses; McHan's percentage is 53.1.

Arkansas will be trying to snap a losing streak on Texas soil. The Razorbacks have dropped 14 in a row in Texas, not having won there since 1948.

In previous meetings, SMU has won 17 times to Arkansas' nine. The two schools have tied twice. At Fayetteville last year, the Razorbacks ran up a quick 17-0 lead, but the Mustangs came back to win 27-17.

Sunday School Lesson
By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

Recently I wrote of the need of a better church member. It is not that there is no means of doing so, but that it is by no means common to the churches. We need better church members, better leaders, better preachers, better people, better people who will give their best.

And this need in the churches, the nation and wherever it exists, centers in the one factor of responsibility. What is responsibility? It centers in the simplest word, duty. But it means and means something more. Duty is chiefly related to one particular task or object. Responsibility is a whole range of which every particular duty is a part.

The nature and meaning of responsibility or duty is to place and to perform all that pertains to place and office honestly and to the best of their abilities.

Then contrast that with the man, the self-seeking and the dishonest, dishonestly with which so much of the real meaning of wanting to God such things as life is marred. Confess our public life is marred. Confess and not only to let's betterment!

Long-term sentences have been given to all that have committed perjury, and office honesty and to the best of their abilities. Why have they not been indicted for the primary and basic offense of perjury?

It is strange, as I have suggested in a previous article, that even in the realm of behavior so many persons feel, or display little responsibility. Not is this just a mat-

CONGRESSSES Seek to Recover Taxes
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — The cotton compress and warehouse firms today filed a $13,518 suit against the Federal government for recovery of taxes.

The Federal Compress and Warehouse Co. of Little Rock and the Marked Tree Compress and Warehouse Co. contend that taxes should not have been assessed against them on purchases of machinery, equipment and other supplies used in processing cotton or for repair of existing facilities.

The suit cited a law which exempts from taxation materials purchased for such purposes.

Four Sisters Die in Blaze
DAYTON, Ohio, (AP) — Four sisters, three of them under 5, were killed today in a fire which destroyed their modest three-room house while their parents were gone.

Nancy Louis, 13, Linda Mae, 4, Sharon Elizabeth, 2, and Linda Sue, 1 1/2, children of Mr. and Mrs. Earl West, were asphyxiated, Montgomery County Coroner Robert Zipt said. Cause of the fire was not determined.

Harvest Almost '52 Record
WASHINGTON (AP) — Helped along by nearly ideal weather, U. S. farmers are completing harvest of crops which almost equal last year's second largest volume in history.

Reporting this in its monthly crop report yesterday, the Agriculture Department also said prospects for the fall-sown winter wheat to be harvested next summer are considerably better than a year ago. This year's winter wheat yield was down about 16 per cent from last year's.

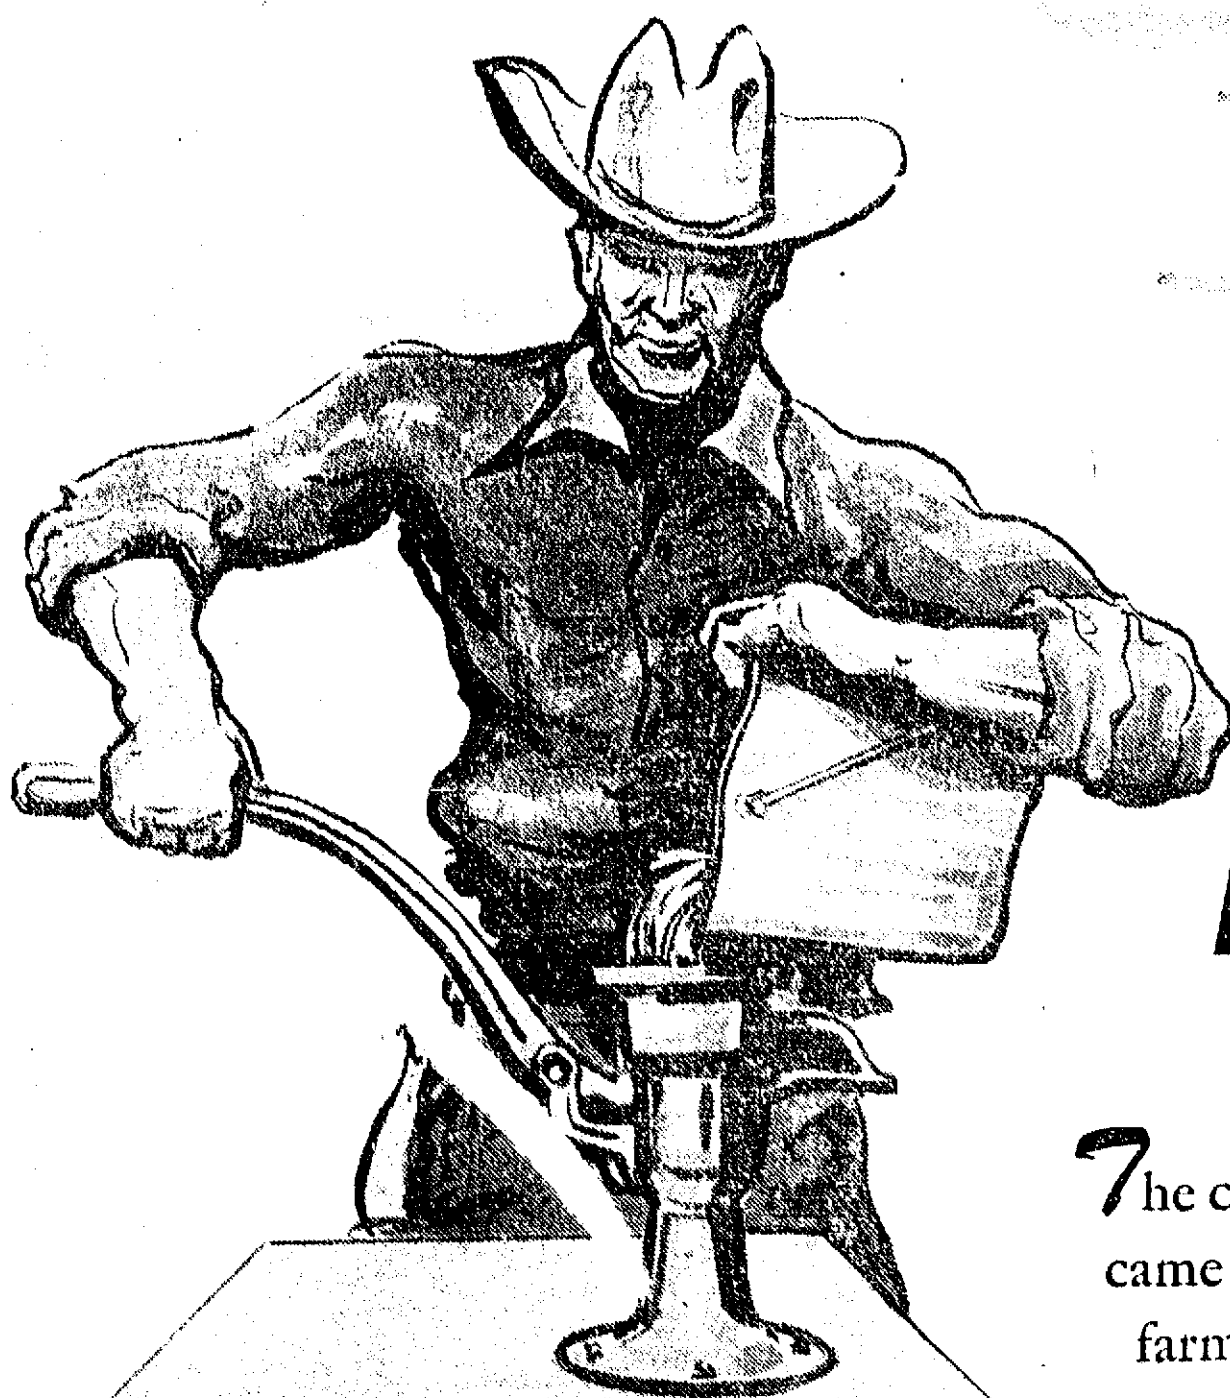

The report did not change prospects that Secretary of Agriculture Benson will set up acreage planting allotments for next year's corn crop. The new estimate for this year's corn crop was 3,100,000,000 bushels, down 16 million from the forecast a month earlier.

should not have been assessed against them on purchases of machinery, equipment and other supplies used in processing cotton or for repair of existing facilities.

The suit cited a law which exempts from taxation materials purchased for such purposes.

PRIMING

the PUMP

The cup of water in the pump came back a bucket full. A farmer must put seed in the ground to get more back. A merchant invests money in his business to get a profit. One gift, well given, recovers many losses. To give to God and His church is no loss.

Those who give, live. "What thou sparest from giving for God's sake, the devil will take another way." Be sincere and generous in your pump priming ... "Give and it shall be given unto you; good measure and running over."
